

Ice Out In The Rain

Sheena Easton

I was once your diamond, you said you were mine
And you burned inside me, when you looked in my eyes
I should've seen clear through you, the crystal was clear
When I reached to touch you, the magic disappeared, it was fading, fading

Like ice out in the rain, so cold inside when you feel the pain
Lost illusions just die away, I feel the same
Left like ice out in the rain

I was once your diamond, and they last so long
The light burns forever, nothing ever goes wrong
I was so mistaken, I relied on you
When you took away the fire, all you left me was the truth, I was dying, dying

(Ice out in the rain, ice out in the rain)

(Ice out in the rain, ice out in the rain)
