

Without You

Sheena Easton

I can take the heartbreaks
The heartaches of the world we live in
I can take the ups and downs
The smiles and frowns of all the phony friends

But I'd rather die than try
To live my life without you
Baby, without you

Without you, there's no love in my life
Without you, there's no light in my nights
Without you, there's no joy in my sight
Without you, there's no joy in my life

I can take the joys and pains
The stress and strain of a long hard day
I'll ride the peaks and lows with ya
'Cause that's how it goes, didn't ya know
That's the way to say

I'd rather die than try
To live my life without you
Without you

Without you, there's no love in my life
Without you, there's no light in my nights
Without you, there's no joy in my sight
Without you, there's no joy in my life

What good is my life?
Trying to survive without you
Without you, there's no good lips to kiss
Without you, there's no lovin' to miss

Without you there's darkness
There is no light in my life
Without you, cold are my nights
Void in my life
