

In Your Dreams

Silke Bischoff

You're looking so helpless
Laying on the floor
We're all damned
Never clean enough
To walk through the door
It seems to be so senseless
To stay in the past
We're all lost
Never close enough
Always too fast
In your dreams
It's easy to fly
In your dreams
In a blue blue sky
In your dreams
It's easy to fall
In your dreams
You hear me calling your name
I've acted so mindless
I run through the night
Broken heads
Never clear enough
To follow the light
Your face looks so empty
You're laying on the floor
You are gone
Never strong enough
To walk through the door
