Freaking Me Out

What the hell's going on Have you gone undercover? You were here, now you're not Been replaced by another Cause it's still your face But there's something strange Not the one I remember Can you please explain Did they wipe your brain? Is this gonna be forever? Cause everything you say Everything you do Is freaking me out, freaking me out You know we used to be the same Who the hell are you Freaking me out, freaking me out Then I swear I thought I knew you But all that was yesterday And now you turn it around, what's that about? Cause you're freaking me out, freaking me out

Think you're real, but you're fake Think you're deep, but you're shallow You've become, what you hate Now you're lost, just a shadow So we pull your strings Cause it makes no sense That you act like you're better You can say these things To your so-called friends And they just might think you're clever

But everything you say Everything you do Is freaking me out, freaking me out You know we used to be the same Who the hell are you Freaking me out, freaking me out Then I swear I thought I knew you But all that was yesterday And now you turn it around, what's that about? Cause you're freaking me out, freaking me out

Wake up, wake up, wake up Snap out of it Wake up, wake up, wake up Snap out of it Wake up, wake up, wake up

Everything you say Everything you do Is freaking me out, freaking me out You know we used to be the same Who the hell are you Freaking me out, freaking me out And now Everything you say

Simple Plan

Everything you do Is freaking me out, freaking me out So why'd you play your games Who're you trying to fool? Freaking me out, freaking me out And I swear I thought I knew you But all that was yesterday And now you turn it around, what's that about? Cause you're freaking me out, freaking me out
