

Leave the Others Alone

Sophie Ellis-Bextor

Black and gold
A safe combination
Heaviness sets the seed for the next generation
You say we're so alike

Well, I wouldn't want to live
On the difference
No, I wouldn't want to live
On the difference

Sitting down at 10,000 feet
Nothing's artificial
It shouldn't be a word
I live on my dreams

Well, I'd never do anything to make them happen
No, I'd never do anything to make them happen
Suddenly I'm forced to think and make the right decision
I'm on the brink

You've put me in a position
I'll tell you what
I'll give you me
If you leave the others alone

Canvas cracks
Face unrecognisable
Eyes have a stony gaze
Moving's not advisable

I know who you are so, I don't feel the need to make conversati on
No, I don't feel the need to make conversation
Suddenly I'm forced to think and make the right decision
I'm on the brink

You've put me in a position
I'll tell you what
I'll give you me
If you leave the others alone

Leave the others alone