Leave the Others Alone

Sophie Ellis-Bextor

Black and gold A safe combination Heaviness sets the seed for the next generation You say we're so alike

Well, I wouldn't want to live On the difference No, I wouldn't want to live On the difference

Sitting down at 10,000 feet Nothing's artificial It shouldn't be a word I live on my dreams

Well, I'd never do anything to make them happen No, I'd never do anything to make them happen Suddenly I'm forced to think and make the right decision I'm on the brink

You've put me in a position I'll tell you what I'll give you me If you leave the others alone

Canvas cracks Face unrecognisable Eyes have a stony gaze Moving's not advisable

I know who you are so, I don't feel the need to make conversati on No, I don't feel the need to make conversation Suddenly I'm forced to think and make the right decision I'm on the brink

You've put me in a position I'll tell you what I'll give you me If you leave the others alone

Leave the others alone