

Never Say Never Again

Steps

Boy look into these eyes,
It's time you realized,
I've had my share of life's heartaches and misery,
Too many times before,
Oh how I've been so sure it's meant to be,
And each every time,
I step across the line,
Just like the fool I am,
I swear it'll be the last,
But here I go again,
Listening to my heart,

It's telling me it's time to move on,
You gotta let it go,
When something in my mind,
Keeps saying no.

No sad goodbyes,
No one last tries,
See I've had enough takin' chances on love,
And I said I'd never do it again,
One look at you,
At once I knew,
That no matter whatever,
I'll never say never again.

And on the day he left,
I crossed my heart and said,
I will be strong instead,
Ready to stand my ground,
This time enough's enough,
Don't want a another love to let me down,
And though forget,
It's over now and yet,
You know I did my best to leave it all in the past,
But boy I guess I never counted on my heart,

It's telling me it's time to move on,
You gotta let it go,
But something in my mind's still saying no.

No sad goodbyes,
No one last tries,
See I've had enough takin' chances on love,
And I said I'd never do it again,
One look at you,
At once I knew,
That no matter whatever,
I'll never say never again.
