And if you could, you'd climb atop The Eiffel Tower now, wouldn't you? You'd stare at the sun, or lay yourself Down six feet under, wouldn't you?

You would, wouldn't you?

And if you could, you'd tie me up And make me yours now, wouldn't you? Oh wouldn't you?

Are you strong enough to love me? Are you lost in love or crazy? Are you strong enough Strong enough to love me?

And if you could, you'd walk through fire On tightrope wire now, wouldn't you? You'd fly up across the sky Just to prove your point now, wouldn't you? Yeah, yeah, wouldn't you?

Are you strong enough to love me? Are you lost in love or crazy? Are you wrong enough Strong enough to love me? Yea yea

You'd take me in hand Higher and higher, overland But I'd slip through the cracks And higher and higher take you back

Are you strong enough, strong enough to love me? And if you could, you'd tie me up And make me yours now, wouldn't you? Now, wouldn't you?

You'd tie me up
Are you strong enough to love me?
Are you lost in love or crazy? yea yea

Are you wrong enough, strong enough to love me? Are you strong enough to love me?
