

Did You Wonder

The Black Heart Procession

Bothered and distraught i slowly wake i didn't know just how it got to be this way did you ever wonder why we bother sometimes did you ever wonder why we bother so its wired in and sewn to our days i didn't know we had to make it through the maze at every turn there's a wall nothing grows in here
did you ever wonder why we bother sometimes
you will see a light on the way we grow old and grey and move so slow
