Forget my heart

The Black Heart Procession

Look what you've done to me Look at my tears Forget my heart No reason to lie to me it can't get any worse Every little thing that you do to me Every single day that goes by Every inch and every mile Everything that I do takes me away from you Look what I've done to you Look at your tears I forgot your heart No reason to lie to you It can't get any worse Every little thing that I do to you Everything I say breaks your heart I guess I should have known I guess I have no choice I guess I lost your heart I guess this pain won't stop I guess I killed my friend I guess this is the end Throwing it away We're throwing this all away
