We Americans

we americans is dirty we americans is positive we dont know if we should be we americans is cowboys we americans love guns aint no one can stop us not even them injuns

so shoot the president forget the national debt it makes no difference to me it dont effect my rent you see and it has always been this way and it wont change god bless the good old usa

We americans cant write we americans dont read and we dont want nobody telling us what we need 'cause were better then that and were better then this and were better then everybody else we got the dollars and we got the cents and it has always been this way and it wont change god bless the fked up usa

You know you cant complain we'll just wipe out the stains we like to suck before we spit we spray pain on the walls 'cause we love those shopping malls all those purple track suits make me sick thats it, we quit we americans is stupid we americans dont write aint no one can stop us 'cause we do what we like
