Plain Parade

The Cardigans

Plain parade Well, where is all the profit laid? Plain parade Well, maybe we have lost our way

Some are lone Sickly running from Something so wrong And nowhere to belong

Plain parade Well, when will I be repaid Plain parade I might join you on another day

Some are lone Sickly running from Something so wrong And nowhere to belong

All you've given me is sadness Proof enough to feel I'm loveless I wish that I could manage better now And find a place that I can settle Down