

Dion Fortune

The Cassandra Complex

She is the sea that holds all things within her
My life is between her hands
She is space and earth (and life) and water
She is all, and she will understand

I go to her across the shadowy river
She keeps my soul until the dawn
The Dark Queen comes, comes to renew me
From Death's caress, I rise reborn

Awaken me with kisses in the darkness
Isis, the giver of life
I am dead until you come to save me
I am dead till you become my wife
