

Bring You Down

The Dear Hunter

You took me by surprise
A stranger through my eager eyes
An ego that's been spilled and spoiled by another

But don't let me bring you down
No don't let me bring you down
No don't let me bring you down
Again...

I tried so hard to hide
The cynic in me far from sight
But moments still arise when my flaws get the best of me

So don't let me bring you down
No don't let me bring you down
So don't let me bring you down
Again...

Every sudden feeling of helplessness
Lead me down to the bottom of myself
And I couldn't wait for you

Devils bound about in my heart singing loud enough to drown out beauty I'm missing
I couldn't wait for you

So don't let me bring you down
No don't let me bring you down
No don't let me bring you down
Again...
