

Crow Bar Hotel

The Dirty Heads

Sometimes I wanna hear the magpies
Too bad they don't sing at midnight
Moonlight, I need a little sunshine now

My time dancing on the black top
My song playing when the birds talk
Moonlight, I need a little sunshine now

Say hello on the breeze
Come and go as they please
Oh ain't no laws when you can fly

Every night I close my eyes, I long to see the sky
All my little friends are innocent
They be singing like

Sometimes I wanna hear the magpies
Too bad they don't sing at midnight
Moonlight, I need a little sunshine now

My friends sitting on the barbed wire
Their coats blacker than a car tire
Can't stop singing 'bout the good times now

Say hello on the breeze
Come and go as they please
Oh ain't no laws when you can fly

Every night I close my eyes, I long to see the sky
All my little friends are innocent
They be singing like

Morning will be back in the morning
Until then, we'll be soaring just waiting to sing this song
Morning will be back in the morning
Until then, we'll be soaring just waiting to sing

Say hello on the breeze
Come and go as they please
Oh, ain't no laws when you can fly

Every night I close my eyes I long to see the sky
All my little friends are innocent
They be singing like

Moonlight, I need a little sunshine now