

The End

The Dirty Youth

I watch the world as it crumbles
Underneath your feet
Your bitter selfishness
And everything you stood for

I realise you are nothing, nothing
You fade away from me
You take away from me
And I can't go on

You said it all and that's too much
Your final words, that bitter touch
And as you leave, I say goodbye
To everything that was a lie

We went the distance
But the distance was way too far
Circumstances change
But you can't change who you are

I tried to cry but I have nothing, nothing
Psychosomatic freak
Calculated headfuck
I can't go on

You said it all and that's too much
Your final words, that bitter touch
And as you leave, I say goodbye
To everything that was a lie

This is the end of everything
This is the end of everything
This is the end of everything
I've taken everything, you can't win

You said it all and that's too much
Your final words, that bitter touch
And as you leave, I say goodbye
To everything that was a lie

You said it all and that's too much
Your final words, that bitter touch
And as you leave, I say goodbye
To everything that was a lie
