Losing My Mind

The Downtown Fiction

She's got a thing with science fiction
Freaking out's her main addiction
She always sings too loud
She's got a band tattoo
Her clothes are all brand new
She loves to cut me down

I know she's the worst for me
But now I'm falling so deep
I'm losing my mind, I'm thinking out loud
My thoughts are so clear, so I wrote them all down
I'm losing my grip, I'm high above ground
Got lost in the crowd, but now I'm finally found
I'm falling back to you now

She can never make up her mind
We've broken up like 15 times
But we're still screwing around
Because we've been around the block too many times
But I just can't get you off of my mind
Turning my head inside out

I know she's the worst for me
But now I'm falling so deep
I'm losing my mind, I'm thinking out loud
My thoughts are so clear, so I wrote them all down
I'm losing my grip, I'm high above ground
Got lost in the crowd, but now I'm finally found
I'm falling back to you now

I never wanted all of this
I'm through with her I'm through with this
I just wanna go back home
It's like pulling hair and pulling teeth
Every day of every week
I just wanna go back home
Oh, oh, oh!

oh, oh, I'm falling back to you now
oh, oh,
I'm losing my mind I'm thinking out loud
My thoughts are so clear, so I wrote them all down
I'm losing my grip, I'm high above ground
Got lost in the crowd and now I'm finally found
I'm falling back to you now
I'm falling back to you now

Got lost in the crowd, and now I'm finally found
I'm falling back to you now
