

The Drawing Board

The Features

Take your woman by the hand
'Splain to her your master plan
And if she cries well then you'll know
That your plan is full of holes

Understand that it ain't no fun
To retire to the drawing board
Every time I think we've reached the end
We just meet back here and do it again
We just meet back here and do it again
Alright

So you've got yourself a new idea
One to make your troubles disappear
Well before you plan to try it out
Here's something to think about

Understand that it ain't no fun
To retire to the drawing board
Every time I think we've reached the end
We just meet back here and do it again
We just meet back here and do it again
We just meet back here and do it again
Look out

Understand
It ain't no fun
It ain't no fun
We just meet back here and do it again
