Nine Million Rainy Days

The Jesus and Mary Chain

Nine million rainy days Have swept across my eyes Thinking of you And this room becomes a shrine Thinking of you And the way you are Sends the shivers to my head You're going to fall You're going to fall down dead As far as I can tell I'm being dragged from here to hell And all my time in hell Is spent with you I have ached for you I have nothing left to give For you to take I have no more empty heart Or limbs to break And the way you are Sends the shivers to my head You're going to fall down dead As far as I can see There is nothing left of me And all my time in hell Was spent with you
