Take

The John Butler Trio

Take, take what you want
Take it all, I know you want my soul
And feel what you want me to feel
But I will only conceal just a little more from you

You're all alone, you're all alone
And you draggin everyone in
All alone and you don't even understand
Don't even understand

So I'll obey, listen to what you say
Cos you are in full control now
But you're so scared
So scared of losing it all somehow

You're all alone, you're all alone
And you draggin everyone in
All alone and you don't even understand
Don't even understand

See if you don't got the time
To show just a little respect
You won't get any in return
And if you don't got time to have an open ear
You won't have anything to learn

Don't know why you don't even understand
Don't know why you don't even understand
Don't know why you don't even understand
