Rats

The Kinks

I was lost just wandering round downtown Many people pushing me around Hate spreads just like infection

Those rats jumping on and off my back Fat black rats holding me down I see rats in every direction

No time to catch your breath Crazy people lost their heads Masses trampling on my feet, inconsiderate in their heat

Those rats breeding angriness and spite Never have done anything right for people like you and me

Walk over all the people you can't see If they die there's more bread for me Like snakes crawling through the grass

No time to catch your breath Crazy people lost their heads Masses trampling on my feet, inconsiderate in their heat

Those rats breeding angriness and spite Never have done anything right for people like you and me

See that face man look at me, he's much too selfish to see Once he was warm and was kind Now all he has got is a pinstripe mind

See that face man look at me, he's much too selfish to see Once he was warm and was kind Now all he has got is a pinstripe mind
