

Resign Yourself to Me

The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band

Ain't no place you can hide that I can't find you
Ain't no place you can get where I won't see
Let's you forget, my dear, let me remind you
Girl, you may as well resign yourself to me.

Ain't no door you can lock that I can't get through Ain't no place you can undress where I can't see
If you're marooned in space I'll come and get you
Girl, you may as well resign yourself to me.

Don't think you fool me with that trench coat and them shades
I'm gonna wrap my arms around you like two gooey old band aids.

Don't think you fool me with that trench coat and them shades
I'm gonna wrap my arms around you like two gooey old band aids.

Ain't no path you can take that I can't follow
I'm gonna buzz around your head like a bee
You may elude me tonight but come tomorrow
Girl, you may as well resign yourself to me
Girl, you may as well resign yourself to me.
