I'll Be Dreaming

So I've come to this final.. Conclusion. I will not wait around For you to break my heart again Now I understand What a fool I've been I will forgive you.. but.. You know I can't forget Because..

I'll be dreaming of The nights when I would lie awake And stare into The light behind your eyes I have run into The trap you set before me, blind And now my love Cannot seem to hide

And now I sit and talk Through all, the confusion I cannot now remember Who the hell I am You're not the only one Who created an illusion I knew I'd find My place, in time

I'll be dreaming of The nights when I would lie awake And stare into The light behind your eyes I have run into The trap you set before me, blind And now my love Cannot seem to hide

I'll be dreaming of The nights when I would lie awake And stare into The light behind your eyes I have run into The trap you set before me, blind And now my love Cannot seem to hide The Pierces
