

I'll Stay Away

The Slackers

When you turn and walk away
I swear I can see forever
When I hear the things you say
You know they stay with me forever
And then you cry, though I never shed a tear
And then you cry, you tell me stay away from here
I ask you why, but you never, never say
And so I say, I said I'll stay, I'll stay away

When I pay you compliments
You always prefer if I don't say
So its no coincidence that I get so carried away
And then you cry, no I never shed a tear
And then you cry, you tell me stay away from here
I asked you why, but you never, never say
And so I say, I said I'll stay, I'll stay away

Remember when I kissed your lips
They were soft and so familiar
Then you go and tell me this
Oh that you really meant to kill her
And then you cry, no I never shed a tear
And then you cry, you tell me stay away from here
Well I ask you why, but you never, never say
Oh yeah
And so I say, I say I'll stay, I'll stay away

Hey!
I say I'll stay away
And then I say
Oh, that I'll stay away
And then I pray that I, I stay away
I said I'll stay away
I'll stay away
Oh, I'll stay away
I'll stay away
I'll stay away
