

Waiting on a Sign

The Tea Party

I see you walking
You're a miracle on earth
I've been tempted

But now my will won't stray
You know that I'm a good man
It's going to take a little time
If you're waiting on a sign

I know I've hurt you
I won't hurt you anymore
Your tears have spoken
I want to wash your tears away

So, please say you'll stay
I swear that I'm a good man
It's going to take a little time
If you're waiting on a sign

And I remember
Like a martyr in the moonlight
This resistance
Shall now be overcome

So, please say you'll stay
I swear that I'm a good man
It's going to take a little time
If you're waiting on a sign

If it pleases you my love
I'll get on my knees
If you're leaving me my love
Take this pain away

Please say you'll stay
Please say you'll stay
I swear that I'm a good man
It's going to take a little time
If you're waiting on a sign
