

He's never been lonely
She takes his hand and all his troubles step aside
He's never felt like this before,
But he'd like to try
'Let Yourself in', it's all he's thinking about
'Let Yourself in', now he's singing out loud

I'm feeling like my life has just begun
And I'm feeling fine
I fell so alive, singin'
I'm feeling like my life has just begun
And I'm feeling fine
So fine, fine, fine

She lightens up his morning
All of his plans seem so damn easy to decide
It's not about just feeling lonely
It's more, just give it a try
'Let Yourself in', it's all he's thinking about
'Let Yourself in', now he's singing out loud

I'm feeling like my life has just begun
And I'm feeling fine
I fell so alive, singin'
I'm feeling like my life has just begun
And I'm feeling fine
So fine, fine, fine

I can't wait to find my way home
I can't wait to get to start
It will not be done, until it's all begun
