

They Call It Falling for a Reason

Trisha Yearwood

He had me spinning like a girl in the circus in a trapeze act
Tell me what are you supposed to do
When you've been kissed like that
I don't think I've ever been so high
Is it any wonder I felt like I could fly

It's a tumblin' rush, it's a helpless kind of feeling
When your heart doesn't know which way is up or down
Till you hit the ground hard and fast, bruised and barely breathin'
I guess they call it falling for a reason

I was death defying, yeah, flying with the greatest of ease
There was nothing out there but the wind and the air and me
It's a long way down I don't know how I survived
It's a hell of a way to feel like you're alive

It's a tumblin' rush, it's a helpless kind of feeling
When your heart doesn't know which way is up or down
Till you hit the ground hard and fast, bruised and barely breathin'
I guess they call it falling for a reason

Falling

I don't think I've ever been so high
Is it any wonder I felt like I could fly

It's a tumblin' rush, it's a helpless kind of feeling
When your heart doesn't know which way is up or down
Till you hit the ground hard and fast, bruised and barely breathin'
I guess they call it falling for a reason
They call it falling for a reason

Falling

Falling