

Long Time Gone

Triumph

You say you're not afraid behind your walls of pride
They keep the world away but something's trapped inside
I'll go any way the wind blows
And you know the storm comes and the river will run
You better hold on to the moment
Cause it may never come again

Long time gone
Where do we go from here
Long time gone away..

The voice of reason begs the fighting takes its toll
You're bangin' big square pegs into little round holes
But I'll go anyplace your heart goes and you know
The music plays and the heart obeys

You gotta keep this thing together
But you don't know the why or how
It's getting hard to find forever
In the state of here and now
