

Another Man's Fool

Waylon Jennings

Don't sing them songs about the open road
I've lost too many rainbows chasin' pots of gold
I still remember what my baby said
It's still a knockin' 'round in back of my head

She said, "I'm gonna lock the doors around about midnight
Put bars on the window like a zoo
You ain't the man that reaches up to turn out my light
You're just another man's fool, just another man's fool"

I left this mornin', had just one more chance
She caught me leavin' by the seat of my pants
She said, "Go on, get out and have a good time
Don't bother comin' home if you can't bring me mine"

She said, "I'm gonna lock the doors around about midnight
Put bars on the window like a zoo
You ain't the man that reaches up to turn out my light
You're just another man's fool, just another man's fool"

She said, "I'm gonna lock the doors around about midnight
Put bars on the window like a zoo
You ain't the man that reaches up to turn out my light
You're just another man's fool, just another man's fool"
