

Which Way Do I Go (Now That I'm Gone)

Waylon Jennings

I put yesterday and half the night between us
Made up my mind this time I'm gonna stay
Now I'm sitting on the shoulder thinking it all over
Looking for a sign that might show me the way

Which way do I go, now that I'm gone
Which way do I turn, now that I've learned how to be strong
Do I take the road that takes me back to where it all went wrong
Which way do I go, now that I'm gone

Now I listen to the midnight rain that's falling
Watch the headlines glisten as they pass me by
And I envy them for knowing exactly where they're going
Just like I thought I knew when I told you goodbye

Which way do I go, now that I'm gone
Which way do I turn Lord, now that I've learned how to be strong
Do I take the road that takes me back to where it all went wrong
Which way do I go, now that I'm gone
Which way do I go, now that I'm gone
