

Why Don't You Leave Me Alone

Wayne Hancock

Last night you told me that I ain't worth a dime
Well, don't you worry baby cause I'm leaving this time

Why don't you leave me alone
Why don't you leave me alone
Your hillbilly daddy's packing
And I'm gonna be gone

We never get along I guess we never will
So saying so long, it ought to give you a thrill

Why don't you leave me alone
Why don't you leave me alone
Your hillbilly daddy's packing
And I'm gonna be gone

I'm going joint jumping down at club 21
I ain't looking for trouble, but I'm going to have fun

Why don't you leave me alone
Why don't you leave me alone
Your hillbilly daddy's packing
And I'm gonna be gone

You want a sensitive sissy that'll hear your command
Not a hillbilly singer with a five piece band

Why don't you leave me alone
Why don't you leave me alone
Your hillbilly daddy's packing
And I'm gonna be gone
