

Every Time He Drinks He Thinks of Her

Willie Nelson

Every time he drinks he thinks of her
But every morning her memory fades away
Living is easy now, but it just might get worse
Cause every time he drinks he thinks of her

But in the morning he wakes up with a smile
And the road still has him coming every mile
But the party life is dangerous, when you left your love behind
Cause it hides in every bottle that you find

Every time he drinks he thinks of her
And every morning her memory fades away
Living is easy now, but it might get worse
Cause every time he drinks he thinks of her

He thinks that he can live his life without her
And leave her love as easy as it came
If he keeps on drinkin', then his mind will keep on thinkin'
And his heart will die rememberin' her name

Every time he drinks he thinks of her
But in the morning her memory drains away
Living is easy now, but it might get worse
Cause every time he drinks he thinks of her

And every time he drinks he thinks of her
But in the morning her memory drains away
Living is easy now, but it might get worse
Cause every time he drinks he thinks of her
