

(I Don't Have a Reason) To Go to California Anymore

Willie Nelson

I meet her by the ocean laying in the California sun
And she was some thing special like I never found in anyone
But living here in Texas sure kept this ole boy on the moon She sad when I wasn't with her someone else would be pulling of her shoes
That gal she hypnotized me and had me baying airline tickets ev ery week
But every time I mention Texas she moved a little further up th e beach
Then today she finely told me long distance love ain't working like before
And you don't have a reason to come to California any more

I don't have a reason to go to California anymore
And when she closed her hart
She closed the California door
I might as well fall in the ocean
Like I've heard them say a hundred times before
Cause I don't have a reason to go to California anymore

I might as well fall in the ocean
Like I've heard them say a hundred times before
Cause I don't have a reason to go to California anymore
I don't have a reason to go to California anymore
