Back to Normal

Zebrahead

I'm feeling lost,
I'm feeling like my heart's been carved out with a spoon
put on display for all to witness this decay of me and you

Awaking and taking the cycle of breaking up to a whole new level Shaking and faking like you're making a hard choice not to settle Imbedded, I'm think headed I shredded all the letters you sent Don't get it. why'd you let it get this far Now we've reached the end.
lights out lights out Pass the herb lights out lights out kiss the curb lights out lights out your heart has turned Who's going to save me every time I crash and Burn and I crash and burn

I'm sick of endings
I'm done pretending
I just want you back to normal
I think you don't know just how you feel
And every time you think of me
Remember how things used to be not long ago

Whoa-oh

Ill fated,I skated, to the party faded,and I saw you there I waited, hated, getting ignored you stated you didn't care Flashes of car crashed and your ashes burning the cement The curtain fails, last call, credits roll we have reached the end

Lights out lights out Pass the herb
lights out lights out kiss the curb
lights out lights out your heart has turned Who's going to save you every time you crash and Burn crash and burn

I'm sick of endings
I'm done pretending
I just want you back to normal
I think you don't know just how you feel
And every time you think of me
Remember how things used to be not long ago

Sick of endings
I'm done pretending
Tired of fighting
I'm sick of always trying

I'm feeling lost,
I'm feeling like my heart's

put on display for all to witness this decay of me and you
I just want you back to normal
I think you don't know just how you feel
And every time you think of me
Remember how things used to be not long ago

Who-ah

Lights out lights out Pass the herb
lights out lights out kiss the curb
lights out lights out your heart has turned Who's going to save me every time I crash and Burn
I crash and burn
I crash and burn
