

What Has Happened

12 Rods

my ex thinks she's so tough she flicks her cigarette before she puffs i think she's a man when she wears adidas she lost her libido then dumped me for a punk who's in a band, sounds like korn but pretentiously aggressive not too impressive

for someone she brags to be an ex-junkie
what has happened to the one that i love

what has happened?
what has happened?
what has happened, what has happened
what has happened to the one that i love?

lady irony, thanks for the memories habits form like a brain stem injury you were an angel meant to die who kept me on the outside my arms didn't fail, they just disappeared i'm an empty handed bandit with the rock career now i'm singing the blues like an oil spill dove

what has happened to the one that i love?

what has happened?
what has happened?
what has happened, what has happened
what has happened to the one that i love?

what has happened?
what has happened?
what has happened, what has happened
what has happened to the one that i love?

i die like a dog, now the coast is clear so you can step up to the master's chair but just remember where i am today cuz i was the first to have you anyway

what has happened?
what has happened?
what has happened, what has happened
what has happened to the one that i love?

what has happened?
what has happened?
what has happened, what has happened
what has happened to the one that i love?

what has happened?
what has happened?
what has happened, what has happened
what has happened to the one that i love?

what has happened?

what has happened?
what has happened, what has happened
what has happened to the one that i love?
