Step back inside the lie again, you'll find you're Wearing thin

Killing the sympathy as you take another swing At me now

Fighting your inner self again, losing what You feel

Shielded behind the lies that make you feel real Now

It's over and i don't feel a thing but you're Trying to break the scar again your spirit is Bleeding as you grin but your bridge keeps on Burning at both ends

In your mind, the ending seems to be so far from $\mbox{\sc What}$ you need

Take back the memories as you smile to hide the Pain from me now

Shut down the curiosity that brings you here Again

No sense of purity as you try to take the life From me now

Nothing that you ever say could ever possibly Erase

All the hateful things you did and now i'm Through with you nothing you could ever say

Nothing you could ever say Hope you're happy now
