

Only Human

12 Stones

So you've finally hit your wall
You feel like you've lost it all
Like the weight of the world's come crashing down

Hey, it's alright
You're not the only one
Who needs someone to save your life
We're all searching, don't know where we're going
Trying to find our way
We're only human

We, we all have days full of doubt
We've all been lost in the crowd
We all fall short, we all make mistakes

But you, you pick yourself up and you fight
You do what you need to survive
So breathe every breath like it's the last you'll take

Hey, it's alright
You're not the only one
Who needs someone to save your life
We're all searching, don't know where we're going
Trying to find our way
We're only human
We're only human

You'll come back around
You'll come back around
You'll come back around
It'll bring you down
It'll bring you down
You'll come back around

Hey, it's alright
You're not the only one
Hey, it's alright
We're all just trying to find our
Way, it's alright
You're not the only one
Who needs someone to save your life
We're all searching, don't know where we're going
Trying to find our way
Trying to find our way
We're only human
We're only human

We're only human
Trying to find our way
We're only human
