You can count on me

Someone to get there baby

Time is an open book We share our dreams together And we will be who we want to be wherever Life is a mystery The world can be your saviour But let love be your gravity forever I'll take you to an endless dream No matter how it all may seem I know we'll find a way, never say "never"! We all need someone to get there If you just dare You can count on me Someone to get there baby! We all need someone to get there If you just dare You can count on me Someone to get there baby Love can take us anywhere! Nothing can stop us now We're strong when we're together And every step brings us closer now forever I'll take you to an endless dream No matter how it all may seem I know we'll find a way, never say "never"! We all need someone to get there If you just dare You can count on me Someone to get there baby! We all need someone to get there If you just dare You can count on me Someone to get there baby Love can take us anywhere! We all need someone to get there, we can see love can take us anywhere We all need someone to get there, we can see love can take us anywhere We all need someone to get there, we can see love can take us anywhere We all need someone to get there, we can see love can take us anywhere Whooh Whooh Whooh Oh yeah! We all need someone to get there If you just dare You can count on me Someone to get there baby Someone to get there! We all need someone to get there If you just dare

Love can take us anywhere!

Someone to get there
If you just dare
You can count on me
Someone to get there baby
Someone, somewhere, somehow?!

We all need someone to get there If you just dare
You can count on me
Someone to get there baby
Love can take us anywhere!
