I Remember

One time i remember i remember when you used to think that you were much better now you smoke and now you drink

You lost it your legal taking pills and you contrdict those sweeping comments you comments you made before you backflipped

I hope you feel like you belong yeah just like you did before just another scenester fool just another fashion whore

We sure saw who stuck around morals walked on out the door now we see you at the club and you're grinding on your jaw

Was it worth it feel like you belong turn your back feel like you belong Was it worth it feel like you belong turn your back feel like you belong was it worth it, turn your back

One time i remember i remember when you used to think that you were much better now you smoke and now you drink

I hope you feel like you belong yeah just like you did before just another scenester fool just another fashion whore

We sure saw who stuck around morals walked on out the door now we see you at the club and you're grinding on your jaw.
