

Coming Down

2PM

You came to me, I see you from back then
I close my eyes and just when you appear, I see your eyes

I know - I was crazy over the attraction
I followed your eyes to your everything
I fell for that charm as I looked at you

I kissed you just like that
If time stopped just like that, would we still be together right now?
I miss you, if only I can go find you and hold you as I fall asleep

No matter how deep and no matter how far you'd be Looking for you in my dreams I never stop and I feel warmth whenever you're near now that you're here
Play the song of our love, let the music flow
Never stop you and I side by side
Lay in my bed and we can all pretend
Nothing's to blame you know what I want
And I know what you want, but wait I'm alone
Without your touch you know I go insane

We couldn't feel the effects of time
I couldn't see in the darkness but I felt your breath

I know - your rough breaths
I followed your scent to your eyes
I fell for that charm as I held you

But now you're not by my side, I'm all alone
In my room, where only traces of you remain
I can't take a step out of this room and it hurts

When I dream about the love that we made
I see a blue sky shiny stars a blue bird flying high
And I feel your love whenever you're near now that you're here
Start the dance of our love, let the rhythm flow
Never stop you and I dance all night
Spend the night and you'd be mine
Then we can all pretend nothing's to blame
You know what I want and I know what you want
But wait you're not here, without your love
You know I go insane
