

Throw the matches
On the carpet
Just to see if her fire is started
One by one
They just go out
Forever black circles reminding my doubt
Take the pain
Oh it feels like pleasure to me
I burn myself
Oh a place where you can see

This is what we do
You're hurting me
I'm hurting you
The border between love and hate
We cross it again and again and again

Into the flame
Into the flame
I jump into the flame
And I know I'll get out again

Into the flame
Into the flame
I jump into the flame
And I know I'll get out again

It's hard to keep hope
Shocked by the wickedness
I can't see how I will ever get out this mess
I see that you don't care
And I care less than you
I take it out on myself
That's what's left to do
I can't believe
Oh the shit that I've been through
Somehow I live
Oh to give a piece to you

There's a hole in you
Where all your words are slipping through
Burning out can't understand
The reasons brought on you brought on you brought on you

Into the flame
Into the flame
I jump into the flame
And I know I'll get out again

Into the flame
Into the flame
I jump into the flame
And I know I'll get out again

Into the flame
Into the flame
I jump into the flame

And I know I'll get out again

Into the flame

Into the flame

I jump into the flame

And I know I'll get out again
