

I simplify, the reason why
When I miss I slip the abyss

So detail, dripped into pail
The distance fade in the imprint

bliss bin saving nonsense
It went on and on the wrong attitude
Recompense, messed up again
How can I make it up to you?

Hail hail, a wrist to feel
Since its making a difference
Exposed to highs and lows
Get off of that which I know

The risk of life is to burn our time away
We fill up our minds, just like all day
This moment is a gift, that's why it's called the present
In routine we drift, our time is spent

I simplify, what didn't apply
It could have taken forever
I wanna try, deliver it life
Later better than never Vacane destination
I rome from home, setting out all alone
This is my uncluttered life, if not now then why

All in the way to win
You told me to try it again
Who knew it was up to you
I guess ill just give it a spin

The risk of life is to burn our time away
We fill up our minds, just like all day
This moment is a gift, that's why it's called the present
In routine we drift, our time is spent
