

The Night Is Young

311

Waiting for the break of dawn to come on
All that time animals become withdrawn
Disbelief in where I'm led by what my head just said
Must be a part of me that wants me dead
But it's contagious
When you're courageous
Just like when you have your pull it goes viral
Knowing just when to listen is the key to survival

The night is young
The night is young
Don't worry 'bout what may come
The night is young
And we've only just begun

Refuse to wear a mask a stone I'll make a tone of my own
You know just how I feel as I walk into the unknown
But it's contagious
When you're courageous
Just like when people will borrow your sorrow
The only way to live is like there's no tomorrow

Never know what'll get you
I never worry about things that I can't see
Never know what'll set you
Free
Better wait and see

The night is young
The night is young
Don't worry 'bout what may come
The night is young
And we've only just begun

Don't let them forget you
Don't let them forget you
There are lies in routine
Don't let them forget you
And leave you stuck in between
