

There's Always an Excuse

311

Ohhh ohhh

There's always an excuse when you need one

There's always an excuse when you need one

Aw, always a reason for someone

There's always an excuse when you need one

There's always an excuse when you need one

Aw, always tiptoe around the turncoat today

Yeah

Which mood is it gonna be today

Yeah

This time you've done it

You hurt yourself good

Your best friend is gone

And it's understood

All alone and no singing

At a true LA style

Your phone stopped ringing

There's always an excuse when you need one

There's always an excuse when you need one

Aw, there's always an excuse when you need one

There's always an excuse when you need one

Always

Shut it down

Get it right

Cause a person can't win if they don't even put up a fight

Get it right

Everyone has got something that keeps them awake in the night

That's a fact

Don't think of the times that you gave up and let out some slack

Take it back

Don't think you're the only one going through it

Take it back

There's always an excuse when you need one

There's always an excuse when you need one

Awww

There's always an excuse when you need one

Always an excuse when you need one

Always an excuse when you need one

Always an excuse when you need one

Always an excuse when you need one

Always, awww, awww, always
