

Man On The Moon

360

Yeah, hey yo, we hardly read the shit on my Facebook wall
Cuz I'm here and gonna hide me although
Red one to me, can even resist in his tower
Hate life cuz he didn't have shit to bake on it
He couldn't take it, he hide this place
He was gonna kill himself but did it because of me
Yeah I ain't the same and I ain't perfect
But a propose like that make it all perfect
People say define hurts and changing
I'm done this grown up, you still looking at the same person
If my 'arrange it for labs
If my songs can be saving the team
And my words going changing your feet
And I'mma make you believe and chasing your dreams
You see that wroar come along on the suit
And be the motherfucker man on the moon
With my head above the ground, I know the time is own me now
We can pop the clouds and paint that path
No one else is ever run
And I know it's time to run the moon and chase the sun
We can pop the clouds and make our way
So tell me what you want but I don't wanna live like

Yeah making music it's nothing like working on a job
People think I ain't deserving their spark
Being real yo I know that I deserve it because I work myself hard
So I feel when go 'when I've got
See me battle different rappers always serve 'em a lot
Try to climb, bring 'em in town, taking personal shuts
Then I search a response make me understand
When I set fire it really have what it was
I didn't mean to offend it all
But those steps are happened in my vocab' any more
I ain't standing here defending myself
Just cuz you can't make 'i'm try to better myself
I try to better the world, I rap to get my point across
Use to be the dude, you avoid it all
Now I'm making living out of my voice
Staring at the stars and the moon and playing joints and darts
Above the ground I know the time is only now
And we can pop the clouds and paint it perfect
No one else will ever run
And I know it's time to ride the moon and chase the sun
We can pop the clouds and make our way
So tell me what you want but I don't wanna live here like
With my head above the ground
I know the time is already now
We can pop the clouds and make our way
So tell me what you want but I don't wanna live here like
Hey yo I never just thought
That I'll be anything more
Then a shitting rapping feeling out the sinner link for
On a level I thought I never be on it
Addicted to natural high like when I perform
Go up the hole then they berry me in
Go serving more grace then anyone here

Wouldn't change any of this I could have whatever I wish
Cuz now I'm stronger than ever have been
I don't wanna preach but the message is this
The past happened if it's sucks just accepted
The past is all mental, in your head it exist
So live in the present and then you'll won a factual bit
Shut will all my energy to catch the moon
Try to keep on fall with your natural groom
Should I rock in the sky , I'mma land here soon
And be the motherfucker man on the moon
Keep my head above the ground
I know the time is on it now
Then we can prose above the greater 'but no one else is all in front
And I know it's time to right the moon and chase the sun
You can fall and make it
So tell me what you want but I don't wanna live that life
But I don't wanna live that life
But I don't wanna live that life
No I don't wanna live that life
