38th Parallel

Staring at the flames as they dance in red On the corpse of the land there in the midst are wandering a countless unnamed Walking hand in han d Blind leading blind aimlessly into the quicksand of time where they sink On t he brink of eternity cold and alone shrink At the festering obscene corrupt ion Hear my silence in the face of this mass destruction All rise, abandon your shadows and cut ties to your selfish pri de Fix your eyes
on the sun Get burned on the inside and turn these tides All ri se, abandon your shadows and cut ties to your selfish pride Fix your eyes on the sun Get burned
on the inside Closed minds ill equipped to deal with this madness Hearts far to hard to challenge a sadness that draining The soul of a generation Blan keted with tears are faces of nations into the quicksand of time where they sink On the brink of eternity cold and alone shrink At the festering obscene corrupt ion Hear my
