

Into Hell Again

3rd Strike

It's all from the heart I say Back down but we've come a long way walk the path to an early grave see so much hate and so much heartache when we thought we've passed the 25 others left, but one more still alive the injustice tears my eyes years of hate or life of heartache

If you ever need me I'm here I'll follow you into anything if you ever need me I'll be there I'll follow you into hell again

In this world that we fight each day it's kinda' hard to find a brother that's one in the same heavy heart weighing on my soul but I keep my head up bracing for the unknown bullets fly we're no longer taking cover we'll never die findin' strength in one another as long as we stick together for life we'll pass that hate and crush that heartache

If you ever need me I'm here
I'll follow you into anything
if you ever need me I'll be there
I'll follow you into hell again

we stand up proud and tall refuse to take the fall the flames are burning bright spread fire to the fight

You can take our lives but you can't take our pride we'd rather die on our feet then live on our knees from wrong to right a right to run our lives it's who we care it's the family we have started

If you ever need me I'm here
I'll follow you into anything
if you ever need me I'll be there

yeah, you'll always be my brother yeah, you'll always be my friend
my brother
