

Lisa

3rd Strike

You convinced yourself you had nothing nothing left to give in this world filled with pain you memore remains i wish i could have said something to meka you change your mind but it's done
it's too late

know everything is wrong
know everything is wrong
now that lisa's gone

i remember when we used to be friends those high school days are a haze now i'm amazed how the years slipped away memories faded but you were always a queen to me it's so sad to see this loss is a tragedy no lie playing on my sanity now i shed those tears for your family and everyone who knew you loved you what went wrong too young to pass on i cant believe i cant believe that you achieved to relieve yourself a broken girl in a mixed up world walked out the door i hope you found what you were looking for

turn another page
i guess that life goes on
take it day by day
it sometimes feels so wrong
turn another page
i guess that life goes on
take it day by day