

One Million Light Years

4 Strings

One million light years away
From where I saw her first
One million stars shine today
That surely belong to her

She must be out there
She must be on her way
One million light years away