Falling Down

40 Below Summer

It's gonna bite today (right) to open a can of pain (wrong) Sun scorched and blistering (run) - do you know that it's all ( gone) Kiss my eyes shut to bash it in - it's just another payment To how we live, how we dream, how we breed - low rent up in the basement the sky conforms to the surface, what's the purpose, everything is worthless I feel a crack in the structure - it's time bleed through suffe r And I fall into myself - I fall - I'm falling down Life keeps on pushing me under (I am) ripping my whole world as under (I can) Death is what keeps me in motion (will I) drown in this pain like an ocean I'm falling down again (now) Into the ground again (low) Don't tell me what to do when I take you - and I'm gonna make y ou You had in a moment what the rest of us need to believe isn't h opeless Take a look at the scoreboard - it's 1 nothing them - so I gues s you need move more We'll make a crack in the sun, if it feeds you the answer And I fall into myself - I fall - I'm falling down All in my head but the waiting is over Your thoughts can't tread into my disclosure I'm just a face - nameless and silent I'm such a waste - that's why I... And I can't erase - I'm feeling all this I cannot frame and hide behind this (pain) I did it one more time for you - and now I'm Falling down again
